FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 2008, 7:00 PM
THE UKRAINIAN MUSEUM
222 EAST 6TH STREET, BETWEEN 2ND AND 3RD AVES

In Songs of Truth: The Art of the Kobzari, a tribute to the art of Ukraine's blind epic singers, third-generation bandura player and New York Bandura Ensemble musical director Julian Kytasty draws on a lifetime of study to present the full spectrum of the kobzar repertoire: ancient epics and laments, humorous burlesques, religious and moralistic songs, sparkling instrumental dance tunes, and songs of social commentary. The concert will be a rare opportunity to experience a tradition largely destroyed in the Holodomor, Ukraine's famine-genocide of 1932-33, and the Stalinist repressions of the 1930s. The concert is presented in conjunction with the Museum's exhibition, Holodomor: Genocide by Famine.

Tickets are $15 with discounts available for Museum/CTMD members and seniors.
To reserve tickets contact the Museum at 212-228-0110.
Tickets include gallery admission and a reception to follow the concert.

For more information see CTMD's website www.ctmd.org or call Eileen Condon at 212-571-1555 ext. 35.

Support for the Ukrainian Wave Community Cultural Initiative was provided to the Center for Traditional Music and Dance by the National Endowment for the Arts Heritage and Preservation Program and American Express Company. Additional support was provided by public funds from the New York State Council on the Arts, a State agency; the New York City Department of Cultural Affairs; and Con Edison.

Founded in 1968, the Center for Traditional Music and Dance, one of the nation's premier traditional arts organizations, is dedicated to maintaining the vibrancy of the performing arts traditions of New York's ethnic and immigrant communities through grassroots community organizing, research-based educational programming, and public performances.
